SPRAYFUN

Sprayfun's film for their Spring/Summer collection is possibly the most tantalising introduction to clothing I've ever watched. Faceless figures emerge from behind trees eerily accompanied by tribal-like music and dressed in oversized, colourful clothing. It's all very surreal, beautiful and earthy – like a magical world in which everything is built for comfort and bliss. Claire and Mika are the couple mastermind behind the Saint-Malo based studio and hand-make each 'wearable canvas' by drawing and spraying directly onto natural fabrics. Next on their agenda is a home-wear collection, which, no doubt, will be just as dreamy and unique.
